

CALTROP has been providing professional program, project and construction management consulting services since 1988. Headquartered in Riverside, California, we have branch offices strategically located in major cities domestically and worldwide. CALTROP has a solid reputation for successfully managing and completing large, complex, public works and transportation projects with a high level of confidence, precision and timeliness. We combine cutting-edge management techniques with old-fashioned values - reliability, hard work and respect - to fully meet the needs of our clients. Our portfolio includes cities, counties, major airports such as Los Angeles World Airports (LAWA), agencies such as Caltrans and more.

For Caltrans especially, we have successfully provided a wide range of on-call services to Caltrans districts statewide, and have delivered projects in both urban and rural environments.
